

PSAV Audience Response System

Grab your audience's attention and get them involved

Actively engage attendees

Want to make your meeting participants actively engage in your training session or presentation? PSAV's Audience Response System can do it. Wireless key pads allow you to transform your standard PowerPoint® presentation into a powerful, two-way communication tool that not only grabs the participants' attention, it gets them fully involved. And makes sure your message stays top-of-mind. Both during and after the meeting.

Collect data – Share responses. On the spot

Through a PowerPoint presentation, presenters can display questions, surveys, opinion polls and complex problems that require everyone in the room to select a response via their input device. All responses are then transmitted to the presentation computer for data collection. Results can easily be converted into an excel report or shared with attendees — on the spot.

Immediate feedback, consensus and data collection

When you use PSAV's Audience Response System, your meeting participants feel much more involved — which encourages top performance. On the spot feedback, consensus and data collection mean it's a win/win. For you and them.

Applications for Audience Response System include:

- Real-time feedback
- Audience games
- Training courses
- Mock trials
- Voting or consensus
- Data collection